EXPLANATORY NOTE.

For many years the New Hampshire Medical Society has had a standing committee on the History of Medicine in New Hampshire, and it was for a long time the purpose of that committee to get together material relating to the medical profession in the state from the earliest Colonial period, and to that end much matter has been collected; but, owing to the magnitude of the work and the inability of any member of the committee to give sufficient time to the undertaking, it was, later, concluded to publish simply a history of the New Hampshire Medical Society itself.

The committee consisted of:

Irving A. Watson, M. D.
William Child, M. D.
John W. Parsons, M. D.
*William T. Smith, M. D.
Granville P. Conn, M. D.

In 1908, the society authorized the committee to publish a history of the New Hampshire Medical Society for the first fifty years of its existence; but at its meeting in 1909, it was voted to amend the previous vote and to authorize the committee to extend the history to the year 1854, the date at which the publication of the annual transactions of the society began.

A conference of the committee was held, and it was agreed that the written transactions of the society and of the council for the period named would constitute the only accurate and complete history of the society itself, and that it would be advisable, for historical genealogical purposes, to print these transactions in the original phraseology, punctuation, spelling, paragraphing, etc., of the manuscript records.

The work has required more time than was anticipated, since the labor of copying, which required not only the most careful following of capitalization, spelling, etc., but also the deciphering of almost illegible words, consumed a great deal of time, aside from the slow and careful process of proof-reading, and a copy more than ordinarily difficult for the printer to follow.

The original records of transactions constitute two large volumes, in a good state of preservation, and one smaller volume of transactions of the council, all of which is embraced in this work down to the year 1854.

As the greater value of the work centers in the men who composed the New Hampshire Medical Society during the period mentioned, it was believed that an index, giving page-to-page references of every name mentioned in the volumes, would best serve historical and genealogical purposes.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

An Act to incorporate certain Physicians by the name of the New Hampshire Medical Society.

As health is essentially necessary to the happiness of Society, and as its preservation or recovery is closely connected with the knowledge of the animal economy and of the properties and effect of medicine, and as the benefit of medical institutions formed on liberal principles and encouraged by the patronage of the law is universally acknowledged—

Be it therefore enacted, by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court Convened, that Josiah Bartlett, Joshua Brackett, Ammi Ruhami Cutter, Hall Jackson, Nathaniel Peabody, William Page, Moses Carr, James Brackett, John Rogers, John Jackson, Ezra Green, Ebenezer Rockwood, William Coggsell, Kendall Osgood, George Sparhawke, William Parker, Samuel Tenney, Benjamin Page and Isaac Thom be, and they hereby are formed into, constituted and made a body politic and corporate by the name of the New Hampshire Medical Society, and that they and their successors, and such other persons as shall be elected in the manner herein after mentioned, shall be and continue a Body Politic and Corporate by the same name forever.

And be it further enacted that the Fellows of said Society may from time to time elect a President, Vice President & Secretary with such other officers as they shall judge necessary and convenient. And the Fellows of said Society shall have full power and authority from time to time to determine and establish the names, number and duty of their several officers, and the tenure and estate they have in their officer respectively: and also to authorize and impower their President or some other officers to administer such Oaths to such officers as they, the Fellows of said Society, shall appoint and determine for the well ordering and good government of said Society, provided the same be not repugnant to the Laws of this State.

And be it further enacted that the Fellows of said Society shall have one common Seal, and power to break, change and renew the same at their pleasure.

And be it further enacted that the Fellows of said Society may sue and be sued in all actions real, personal and mixed, and prosecute and defend the same unto final judgment and execution by the name of the New Hampshire Medical Society.

And be it further enacted that the Fellows of said Society may from time to time elect such persons to be fellows thereof as they may judge proper, and that they, the fellows of said Society, shall have power to suspend, expel or disfranchise any fellows of said Society.

And be it further enacted that the Fellows of said Society shall have full power and authority to make and enact such rules and bye laws for the better Government of said Society, as are not repugnant to the laws of this State, and to annex reasonable fines and penalties to the breach of them, not exceeding the sum of twenty Pounds to be sued for and recovered by said Society and to their own use in any Court of Record in this State proper to try the same: and also to establish the time and manner of convening the members of said Society, and also to determine the number of fellows that shall be present to constitute a meeting of said Society, and also that the number of said Society, who are Inhabitants of this State, shall not any time be more than seventy nor less than fifteen, and that their meeting shall be held in Concord or such other place within this State as a majority of the members present, in a legal meeting, shall judge most fit and convenient.

And whereas it is clearly of importance that a just discrimination should be made between such as are duly educated and properly qualified for the duties of their profession, and those who may ignorantly and wickedly administer medicine whereby the health & lives of many valuable individuals may be endangered, or perhaps lost to the Community.

Be it therefore further enacted that the President and fellows of said Society, or such of their Officers or Fellows as they may appoint, shall have full power and authority to examine all Candidates for the practice of Physic and Surgery who shall offer themselves for examination respecting their skill in their profession, and if upon such examination the said Candidate shall be found skilled in their profession and fitted for the practice of it, they shall receive the approbation of the Society in letters Testimonial of such examination under the Seal of said Society, signed by the President or such other person or persons as shall be appointed for that purpose.

And be it further enacted, that if the said President and such other person or persons so elected and appointed for the purpose of examining Candidates as aforesaid, shall obstinately and unreasonably refuse to examine any Candidate so offering himself for examination as aforesaid, such and every such person so elected and appointed as aforesaid, shall be subject to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds, nor less than twenty pounds, to be recovered by the said Candidate, and to his own use in any Court within this State proper to try the same.

And be it further enacted, that it shall be the duty of the said Medical Society, from time to time, to describe and point out such a medical instruction or education as they shall judge requisite for Candidates for the practice of Physic and surgery previous to their examination before them, or their officers appointed for that purpose respecting their skill in their profession, and shall cause the same to be published in two of the Newspapers printed in different Counties in this State. And every Candidate examined and approved by the President and Fellows of said Society, or such of their Officers or Fellows as they shall appoint, shall be held to pay such reasonable fees of Office as shall be established by said Society for the examination of Candidates and letters Testimonial in favour of such as shall be approbated.

And the Treasurer of said Society for the time being shall have full power and authority to sue for and recover the same in any Court proper to try the same.

And be it further enacted, that the Fellows of said Society may and shall forever be deemed capable in law of holding and taking in fee simple, or any less estate, by gift, grant, devise or otherwise, any lands, tenements or other estate real or personal, provided that the annual income of the whole real Estate that may be given granted or devised to, or purchased by the said Society, shall not exceed the sum of two hundred pounds, and the annual income or Interest of said personal estate shall not exceed the sum of One thousand pounds and the annual income or interest of the said real and personal estate together with the fines and penalties paid to said Society or recovered by them shall be appropriated to such purposes as are consistent with the end and design of the institution of said Society and as the fellows thereof shall determine.

And be it further enacted that his Excellency Josiah Bartlett Esquire be, and he hereby is authorized and directed to fix the time and place for holding the first meeting of said Medical Society, and to notify the Fellows thereof accordingly.

LAWS & REGULATIONS
of the
New Hampshire Medical Society

Chapter 1.

Of Officers & their manner of Election.

Section 1. There shall be a President — a Vice-President — five Councillors — a Secretary — a Treasurer — Six Censors and a Librarian, who shall be annually chosen by Ballot on the wednesday following the General Election of the State, at the place of holding said Election, & by two thirds of the votes of the Fellows present, whose number shall be at least Eleven.

Sect. 2. In order to this election the President shall take the chair at 3 o'Clock P. M. & after the choice of three Scrutineers by nomination, the Ballot shall commence and continue open till 4 o'Clock — The scrutineers shall then sort & count the votes & report the same to the chair; after which the presiding Fellow shall declare the choice, if any there be. But should it appear that a choice in any instance is not made, the balloting shall be renewed till the election be completed.

Sect. 3. If either of the Censors in either district, the Secretary, Treasurer or Librarian should die, resign or be removed during the year, the vacant office or offices may be filled up, by written votes, for the remaining part of the year, at an extraordinary meeting of the Society, provided the president & council shall judge it necessary to summon one for the purpose; and the Society reserve to themselves a power of removing, at such meeting, any of their officers for neglect of their trust or disobedience of orders.

Voted that the following Resolve be presented to his Excellency Governor Bartlett viz

At a meeting of the Newhampshire Medical Society held by adjournment at Concord on the 19th of June 1793 His Excellency Governor Bartlett having signified to this Society that the discharge of the Arduous & important duties of his Office as first Magistrate of the State with various other Concerns must necessarily engross his whole attention; & that notwithstanding he should ever aim to promote the true intrest of the Society, yet it would be inconvenient for him any longer to hold the office of President

Wherefore Resolved unanimously that the united Thanks of the Fellows be given to his Excellency Governor Bartlett for his very polite & friendly attention & Patronage in forming & supporting the Medical Society — that they very much regret his declining to accept the Office of President — and request his advice patronage & attendance at the Meetings whenever he can make it convenient.

Voted that Dr Page Dr Osgood & Dr Carrigain be a Committee to present the above Resolve to his Excellency Governor Bartlett

To which his Excellency returned the following Answer
Gentlemen of the Newhampshire Medical Society

The unexpected Resolve of thanks presented me by your Committee, for the small service I have been able to afford the Medical Society, I consider as an instance of the polite attention and regard they mean to pay to such persons as may in any manner endeavor to promote the Public happiness.

I have long wished that the practice of Medicine in this State (upon which the lives and healths of our fellow Citizens depends) might be put under better regulations than it has been in times past and have reason to hope that the incorporation of the Newhampshire Medical Sociaty (if properly attended to by the Fellows) will produce effects greatly beneficial to the Community by encouraging

Genius & learning in the Medical Science and discouraging Ignorant & bold pretenders from practizing an art of which they have no knowledge.

That the Members of the Society may be useful to themselves & the Public and enjoy the exalted pleasure & satisfaction that arise from a consciousness that they have contributed to the health & happiness, not only of their respective Patients, but by communicating to others the knowledge & cure of diseases to the general happiness of the human race, is the ardent wish of Gentlemen your very humble Servant

Signed Josiah Bartlett

L. Spalding for the Censors.

In conformity with a vote of the Society passed May 1805 D^r Spalding submitted the following report, which was read and accepted; and ordered to be entered on the records of the Society.

“Whereas the Honble. Joshua Brackett Esq^r late of Portsmouth, deceased and his honoured lady deceased, have from time to time made generous and liberal donations to this Society.

Resolved therefore, that the following biographic notice of these two liberal and distinguished Characters be entered upon the records of the Society intoken of the esteem and veneration this Society will ever Shew departed merit.

The Hon^{ble} Joshua Brackett M. D. was born in Greenland, Newhampshire, May 1733, and graduated at Harvard University in 1752. He studied Divinity and preached a short time, but from ill health quitted that profession for medicine, which he read with Doctor Clement Jackson of Portsmouth.

He was in early life married to Miss Hannah Whipple of Kittery. The name of Brackett is among the founders of this Society and he was our first Vice President. In 1793 he was elected President of the Newhampshire Medical Society, which office he sustained till the year 1799, much to his honour and the satisfaction of the Society.

To this man, the Society is indebted for the first foundation of a Library and its whole increase and support for more than nine years; neither is this all which the Society is indebted to his benevolence; it is probable that he left it in charge with his wife, that she should make a further donation to the Society, after she had done with his estate, and we therefore find in her will the following legacy.

“Item 5. And the other moiety of said sum (ie of one thousand dollars) to the Newhampshire Medical Society to be applied by the members thereof to the purposes best calculated to promote the general benefits contemplated in the establishment of said society.”

His benevolence was not confined to this Society we witness others enjoying his heavenly blessings. Doctor Brackett was a well founded scholar a lover of the liberal arts and sciences: he took much care to store his mind with useful information, which it was a pleasure to him to communicate.

He was much attached to his Profession and his amiable, genteel and agreeable deportment rendered him peculiarly agreeable to his patients. With the rugged art of Surgery he was not so much delighted as with the tranquil field of physic; but midwifery was his fort; here he shown in all his splendour and was peculiarly successful. In medicine, his motto was imitate nature, look at the beasts of the fields and imitate them, theirs is nature pure and undefiled by fashion, prejudice or habit.

He never published anything in medicine, altho' he occasionally kept notes of extraordinary cases, from which we are to attribute much of success in practice.

He died on the 17th of July 1802, aged 70 years. His health, for some time, had been much impaired by a disease in the region of the heart, as to the nature of which he was never fully satisfied.

Mrs. Brackett was a most amiable, accomplished and dignified woman; her mental endowments were inferior to none; her education and acquirements far surpassed any lady's in the vicinity—with such possessions she was modest and unassuming—her favorite studies were natural philosophy and more especially Botany. She had an excellent garden well stored with choice and rare shrubs, plants and fruits.

In benevolence she was not surpassed by her husband, for it was by her will that the Society realized the legacy of 500 dollars.

She died on the 18th of May 1805 aged 70 years."

To perpetuate in the Newhampshire Medical Society Library the name of its founder

Resolved, That the name of Brackett shall be marked in golden letters on the covers of all the books that were presented by him, or purchased by Mrs. Brackett's legacy in manner and form as underwritten

to the
N. H. MED. SOC.

Voted, That the Librarian be requested to have the books in the Library marked agreeably to the foregoing resolve.

Chose Drs Samuel Tenney, William Cutter and Lyman Spalding a committee for purchasing books the ensuing year, and Dr Tenney is hereby requested to inspect the books in the Library previous to the next annual meeting of the Society.

Voted, To appropriate one hundred dollars for the purchase of books the ensuing year

Voted, To accept Dr Ezra Green's resignation of his fellowship.

Voted to accept the Resolves of the President and Council of the 4th of February AD 1807 as recorded in pages 85, 6 & 7 of this volume [See page 57] and that the same do hereby be a part of the laws of the Society, excepting the following words in the V Resolve "and that he have 30 other volumes."

Chose Drs Levi Bartlett, Ebenezer Larned and Amos Gale a committee to carry into effect the VII. of the before named Resolves of the President and Council.

The ballots for candidates on nomination were taken, when it appeared that Doct Joshua Brackett of Portsmouth and Doctr Samuel Morrill of Epsom were both unanimously elected Fellows of the Newhampshire Medical Society.

Voted, That the next meeting of the Society be holden in Exeter on the last Wednesday of May AD 1808 at such house as the Secretary shall direct.

Voted to dissolve this meeting.

Voted to adopt the following Police Rules reported by a Committee of the Society.

Medical Police of the New Hampshire Medical Society.

Consultations should be encouraged in difficult & protracted cases, as they give rise to confidence energy and more enlarged views in practice. On such occasions no rivalry or jealousy should be indulged; candour, justice, and all due respect should be exercised towards the Physician who first attended; and as he may be presumed to be best acquainted with the patient, and his family, he shall deliver all the medical directions & perform such operations as are agreed on, unless he request otherwise. It should be the province of the senior consulting physician to propose the necessary questions to the sick. The consulting physician is never to visit without the attending one, unless by the desire of the latter, or when, as in sudden emergency, he is not to be found. No discussion of the case should take place before the patient or his friends; and no prognostications shall be delivered, which were not the result of previous deliberation & concurrence. Theoretical debates should be avoided in consultations as occasioning perplexity, and loss of time, for there may be much diversity of opinion on speculative points, with perfect agreement on the mode of practice. Physicians in consultations should divest themselves of all partialities, and think of nothing, but will most effectually contribute to the relief of those under their care. If a physicians mind is not open to conviction, from whatever quarter it may come, he should in honor decline the consultation. In consultations all discussions & debates are to be confidential and the utmost punctuality should be observed in consultation visits. Medicine is a liberal profession, the practitioners ought to be men of education & their expectation of business should be founded on their qualifications, not on artifice and insinuation. A certain undefinable species of assiduities and attentions to families usually employing another, is to be considered as beneath the dignity of a regular practitioner, & as making a mere trade of a learned profession, and all officious interferences in cases of sickness of such families, evince a meanness of disposition unbecoming the character of a Physician or gentleman. No meddling inquiries should be made concerning them, nor hints given, relative to their nature and treatment nor any selfish conduct pursued that may directly or indirectly tend to weaken confidence in the physician or surgeon, who has the care of them. When a physician or surgeon is called to a patient, who has been under the care of another gentleman of the faculty, before any examination of the case, he shall ascertain whether that gentleman still continues his visits, & whether the patient considers himself under his care, in which case he is not to assume the charge of the patient, nor give advice (excepting in instances of sudden attack) without a regular consultation: and if such previously attending gentleman has discontinued his visits, and the patient does not consider himself under his care, his practice should be treated with candour, and justified so far as probity and truth will admit for the want of success in the primary treatment of the disorder is no impeachment of professional skill and knowledge.

It frequently happens that a physician in incidental communication with the patients of others, or with their friends, may have their cases stated to them in so direct a manner as not to admit of his declining to pay attention to them. Under such circumstances his observations should be delivered with the most delicate propriety and reserve. He should not interfere in the curative plans pursued; and should even recommend a steady adherence to them if they appear to merit approbation.

The differences of physicians when they end in appeals to the public, generally hurt the contending parties; but [what] is of more consequence they discredit the profession and expose the faculty to contempt and ridicule. Whenever such differences occur as may affect the honor and dignity of the profession, and cannot immediately be terminated, they should be referred to the District Committee, and if one of that number is interested, to the President and other members of the Committee, or to the President, Secretary & remaining member, when two of the same District Committee are interested; but neither the subject matter of such references nor the adjudication, should be communicated to the public, as they may be injurious to the individuals concerned & can hardly fail to hurt the credit of the faculty. The use of Quack Medicines should be discouraged, as disgraceful to the profession, injurious to health & often destructive to life. No physician or surgeon therefore shall dispense a secret nostrum whether it be his invention, or exclusive property; for if it is of real efficacy, the concealment of it is inconsistent with beneficence & professional liberality, and if mystery alone give it value and importance, such craft implies either disgraceful ignorance or fraudulent avarice.

A physician should cautiously guard against whatever may injure the general respectability of the profession, & should avoid all contumelious representations of the faculty at large, all general charges against their selfishness, or improbity, or the indulgence of an affected or jocular skepticism concerning the efficacy and utility of the healing art.

In case any member of this Society become acquainted with the conduct of another member which he considers as a breach of the rules & regulations of the Society, it shall be his duty to make the same known to three Counsellors residing in the District who shall enquire into the case, and decide upon the same as they may think proper, provided, that the Counsellors & member accused shall be at liberty to refer the question to the Society.

The Committee appointed to wait on Doct^r Ramsay beg leave to report; that they have attended on the Doctor at his Museum, that he exhibited to them a very beautiful display of Anatomical preparations and a great variety of Comparative Anatomy; he also showed them the Head Thorax and superior extremities of the human machine in Diagrams very beautifully colored all which appeared to your Committee to be natural ingenious and instructive. Agreeably to the appointment of this Society, I attended as Delegate the examinations of Medical Students at Hanover with the Medical Professors of that Institution, both at Commencement and in December last, and beg leave to report that in my opinion, the examinations were conducted in a judicious manly and critical manner.

I have attended examinations at other Medical Schools and as far as I can judge, those at Hanover were such as would do honor to any Medical Institution. I am therefore of an opinion that the connexion formed between the two institutions is calculated to inspire the Students with more ambition for improvement, and upon the whole add to the stock of medical science.

The following report of one of the delegates appointed to attend the medical examinations at Dartmouth College was read. Visited the Medical Institution at Hanover Dec^r 4th and tarried there till the 16th in which time I had a sufficient opportunity to observe the mode of instruction, the regulation of the school &c. The whole number of medical students was 85, in general they had the appearance of being close students, I saw none who spent their time idly, a considerable number are properly pious, and with the exception of a few, they all conducted with propriety, and in general were as respectable well behaved young men as I ever recollect to have been acquainted with. The mode of instruction in my opinion is excellent. The anatomical preparations belonging to the institution are well prepared, exhibiting all the important parts which it is required for the surgeon to know: viz. The bones ligaments tendons & some of the muscles, the heart & larger arteries, the larger veins & nerves & several preparations of important viscera likewise several important drawings, wax figures & likewise several instructive models of the eye; these are only some of the more important parts of the anatomical museum. The chemical Laboratory & apparatus are good its collections of minerals & natural productions are considerable, it likewise contains samples of most of the metals and ores. There are four lectures in a day; Viz: One on Anatomy, one on Surgery, one on the Theory & practice of Physic & one on Chemistry; at each lecture the students are examined as follows. In chemistry they are required to name the component parts of the various salts, minerals, stones, earths, fluids, oils, &c likewise to describe their analysis and synthesis as far as has been ascertained. In physic to describe the symptoms, nature & treatment of diseases. In Surgery how to determine the disease or injury, the mode of operating, the parts which may be divided and those which should be avoided, and likewise to give their reasons for each step, and to demonstrate the same by anatomy. Gentlemen will readily perceive that this is the proper way to rivet those ideas in the mind of the pupil, which it is so immensely important for him to know; especially when he is called to perform important operations in surgery, on the well performance of which the life of his patient & his reputation may depend. As respect physic we would further observe that every days experience confirms us more & more in the belief, that any rational system of the practise of physic must be founded on inductions, derived from anatomical & physiological researches. The examination of a large proportion of the medical students was very satisfactory; their examination collectively considered amounted to a minute recital of all the most important parts of the profession.

President Tyler apparently from surprise at the length & minuteness of the examination observed that it must be a great tax on the memory.

Voted that Doct. Oliver make a report.

Voted to chose a Committee of three to petition the Legislature for an act to regulate the practice of Physic in this State.

Voted to accept the report of the Com^t viz Chadbourn, Oliver & Hill.

Whereas since the organization of the New Hampshire Medical Society the influence of irregular and unlicensed Practitioners has never been greater than at the present period and the Society having in vain repeatedly petitioned the Legislature for the enactment of a law for the regulation of the Practice of Physic & Surgery in this State and being convinced by many years experience that the wisest regulations and most rigid police is incompetent to remedy the evil, while destitute of some legal restraint, therefore

Resolved that it is expedient again to lay the subject before the Legislature and respectfully petition for some salutary law for the regulation of the practice of Physic & Surgery in this State.

Resolved that we review with regret and alarm the rapid increase of quackery of late within the limits of our Society and since we have no Legislative patronage to remedy the evil, we will both in our corporate and individual capacity endeavor to pursue such measures as will have a tendency to discourage its further increase.

Resolved that we view with regret the increasing circulation of nostrums and Quack medicines among the people, and we will therefore at all times discourage their use by our patients when in our power.

Resolved that the practice of depository medicines at Stores, taverns & grog shops with directions to the common people for their use is not only pernicious to the health & morals of Society but derogatory to the character & reputation of a Physician.

Resolved that we disapprove the encouragement held out to the public through the medium of pompous advertisements, that the daily use of Bitters is conducive to health, and we consider the facility with which "Sloughtons Elix" Spu (?) Bitters &c may be procured at country stores, one of the most direct means of inducing habits of intemperance (the bane of Society) of any within our knowledge.

Resolved that our obligations to society and to each other require of us a more strict observance of our police and By laws, which if rigidly adhered to would in some measure prevent the further extension of the evils above enumerated.

Voted to accept the report

The Committee appointed to make a distribution of the Books to the several District Societies have attended that duty. On the first Wednesday of January the day designated By the Society as the time for the Committee to meet. Three Societies only were represented Viz The Southern, Eastern, & Centre. Notwithstanding those present were authorized to appoint for those Librarians not present, yet as they were bound to assign to each Society a number of Books proportionate to the numbers of associates comprising each District, as the delinquent Societies had furnished them with no means by which they could ascertain the number, nothing could be done.

They therefore adjourned to the first Tuesday in March & letters were sent to each District urging the necessity of, at least so far complying, with the resolve of the State Society as to furnish the numbers of their members if they did not consider the object of sufficient importance to send an agent.

March 1st meet according to adjournment agents were present from Grafton, Strafford, Western & Centre Districts

Voted that Doct Chandler be agent for the Eastern & Mr Farmer for the Southern Districts

The Eastern & Southern Districts did not make known the number of their members. From information of a Physician who formerly resided in the Eastern District we ascertained there were about twenty Practitioners residing out of the limits of Portsmouth who might join the Society in that district if they chose. There were different opinions with the committee relative to the course to be adopted in regard to the distribution. Some were of the opinion that the Books missing from the Library in 1814 and 1817 which now probably are in the possession of individuals in that district (having never been accounted for) a catalogue was furnished the Committee, should be considered a part of their proportion. others supposed as there were so few associates in this District that were willing to be considered as members, that they did not deem the proposal of the State Society an object worthy of attention & had therefore waived any right they might have to the Library. The majority of the Committee however were inclined to do better by them in this instance than they had done by themselves. Without regard to their actual numbers they assigned them a proportion, but one third less than the other Societies except the Centre, after ascertaining from the best means in their power the number of Associates within the limits of each Society. The next object was to apprise the library or rather to set a nominal value on each Book. The committee proceeded to divide the Library into six parts selecting a certain in succession for each Society in proportion to its number of members. Your committee believe there were less objections to this method than to any other they could adopt. Each Society has given a receipt for the Books delivered to them which will be deposited with the Secretary. In the discharge of the duty assigned to them, the Committee believe they have done justice to all. That some societies might have chosen other books than those allotted to them if they had been present is very probable. The only reply the Committee would make is that they should have been present. That it is with Societies as with individuals, if they will not attend to their own affairs but will leave their business to be transacted by others, their interest will sometimes suffer

Voted to hear the report of the delegates to D College

The delegates appointed by this Society at their last meeting to attend the Medical examinations at D College beg leave to report. That they had the pleasure of being present during the examinations which commenced on Monday evening of the 14th of December and closed on Thursday evening following.

The whole number of Students who attended the course of Lectures were 103. The number examined were 28. Medical degrees were conferred upon eight of this number. The examinations with very few exceptions were highly satisfactory. It was thought more attention had been paid to preparatory Studies in this Class than in many Classes which had gone before them. A large proportion of them appeared to be gentlemen of education & refinement & bid fair to do honor to the Institution and the profession at large

Your Delegates were happy to notice the improvements which have been made in the several departments within a few years. Great & important additions have been made to the anatomical meseum. Ten years ago there was not a single preparation of the nerves in the Museum. There is now a number exclusively for that purpose on which the nerves are beautifully displayed and the Professor of Anatomy has extended his ingenious improvement of painting the origin and insertion of the muscles with different colours to the different nerves Models of the Eye & internal ear have been obtained which greatly facilitate the study of those intricate parts.

The furniture in the Chemical Laboratory is much increased, and it was understood still further additions would be made the ensuing season. Your delegates think proper to mention that an agreement has lately been made by the board of Trustees authorizing the President & Medical professors to confer Medical degrees at the close of the Lectures This is a great convenience to the Medical Student. They can now, provided they have complied with the requisitions of the medical police, receive their degrees at the close of the lectures, and save the trouble & expense of attending commencement.

At a meeting of the Council at Concord June 4th 1827.

Councillors Present Doctors Mussey Tukesbury, McGregory, Oliver, Tuttle, & S. Morril.

The following communication from Drs. Chadbourne and Jos. Crosby was read by the President: viz.

To the President and Council of the New-Hampshire Medical Society

Gentlemen,

It is with feelings of extreme regret that we come forward at this time to dissolve our connection with the New Hampshire Medical Society. Availing ourselves of the provision in the fifth sect. of the first Chapt. of our Constitution. we tender to you, & through you to the society our resignation of membership.

That this is not a hasty & unpremeditated step: that reasons for it weighty & abundant exist; that we are compelled to adopt this measure by circumstances not of our own creating & entirely beyond our control, we presume cannot be questioned.

At no period since we have been honored with seats in the Society, are we sensible of declining the performance of any duties devolving upon us by this connection, or of dishonouring the Society by a non compliance with any by-laws or regulation imposed upon us as members; on the contrary we have ever considered ourselves under an imperious duty, a most solemn moral obligation, equally binding upon every Fellow, to comply with the requisitions of the Society in their most rigid construction. Could we say the same of others, of those who consider themselves, and are justly esteemed our superiors & are in reality in almost every respect our seniors, we should not now be reduced to the painful necessity of abandoning a Society whose honour & prosperity we have ever had & have now very near at heart.

The great object of the founders of the N. H. Medical Society was probably the suppression of Quackery. With this object in view, wise regulations and salutary ordinances have from time to time been adopted, which if faithfully adhered to would have most effectually prevented the intrusion of unworthy members into the Profession & have opposed an insurmountable barrier to the success of ignorant pretenders without. But what has been the course pursued by the Society? Have not those, who by their vicinity to irregular & unlicensed practitioners, have had a peculiar claim on their brethren for a faithful adherence to our regulations, been generally disappointed in receiving the support which such an adherence would have afforded them? On the contrary, has not Quackery & Empiricism in every shape received all the encouragement from the members of the Society that free consultations & friendly intercourse would give to them? All in open violation of existing laws & voluntary engagements. Located as we are in the centre of the State, at the fountain head of Quackery, we feel prepared to answer the above questions in the affirmative; for the treatment we have received, we are compelled to say, from our brethren, furnish us with facts to support us in the allegation.

Until within a short period there has resided in the town of Concord two unlicensed practitioners, one in Hopkinton, one in Dunbarton, one in Chichester, one in Deerfield, & two in Pembroke. With none of these could a member of the Society lawfully consult, & without occasional consultations with the regular members of the Profession it is morally certain they could not long retain the confidence of the people. But what are the facts? While we have rigidly complied with the regulations of the Society in regard to consultations, we believe there has never been a time when they needed the support of a consultation but they have found that support, & not unfrequently in the person of an Ex President, Councillor, or other honourable members exercising all the influence that University Diplomas would confer upon them; or they have had it from that distinguished class of Practitioners, of whom (keeping themselves aloof from our meetings) they would have us suppose the society was not worthy.

Although having long since despaired of seeing our regulations complied with & fully convinced that the Society as it now exists is much worse than no Society at all, still we were unwilling to withdraw so long as a disposition could be discovered favoring a union of effort to save it. A medical association was formed with the express purpose of aiding the Society in effecting a medical reform, & what has been the result? Let the three members who composed the last meeting of that association answer. If we are asked what advantage we promise ourselves by withdrawing from the Society? we say "much every way." We shall enjoy that liberty without breaking our obligations that others are enjoying by breaking theirs. They are consulting with those with whom they have pledged themselves not to consult. We will now consult with whom we please, being under no pledge. We repeat it, for we wish it to be distinctly understood, that it is with the most reluctant feelings we retire from the Society, we are urged to it by an imperious sense of duty, we believe there is no alternative left. not only our interest, but we might almost say our existence as Practitioners require it. We have continued faithful to the Society long after the Society has ceased to be faithful to us. We do not include every member in this charge, there are many honourable exceptions. But it is useless for a part to continue their endeavors to accomplish what the united efforts of the whole only can effect. It is this want of union; this unfaithfulness to each other & to the laws of our own making that has created & will perpetuate the violent prejudice that so extensively exists among the people against the Society. Altho in future we cannot be greeted as members of the Medical Society, we hope by our conduct not to disgrace the Medical Profession. It will be our endeavour, as it ever has been, by our honourable & upright course, to merit your friendship & esteem, & encourage an interchange of kind offices with all those who strive to uphold the usefulness & respectability of the profession, for even if the Society treat us as expelled members, & publish us as such, we shall not join ourselves to its enemies.

Wishing the members all that honour & respectability, both in their corporate & private capacity that a faithful adherence to their regulations & integrity of character alone can confer, with due respect we take our leave.

The committee to whom was referred the communication of Drs. Chadbourne & Crosby, made following report, viz.:

The Committee of the Council to whom was referred the communication from Drs. Chadbourne & Crosby, containing a tender of their resignation as members of the N Hampshire Medical Society, respectfully report,

That in their opinion said communication contains many serious but unsupported charges against the Medical Society that it implicates in general terms, the conduct of many individuals, members of the society, without specifying any particular acts of misconduct or breach of the regulations of the Society of which these individuals have been guilty; that while it complains in stronger language of the conduct of those members in consulting with unlicensed practitioners, it expresses the determination of Drs. Chadbourne & Crosby hereafter to do the same thing without restraint; that while in said communication, they profess the greatest respect and attachment to the Medical Society, they are taking the most effectual means to injure & destroy it, & even openly declare in the very same breath, that they consider it worse than no society at all; that they declare that even if the Society shall consider them as expelled members & publish them as such, they will not join themselves to its enemies, while by the very act & circumstances of their withdrawing from the Society, they are most effectually aiding & promoting the views of its enemies. It further appears to the Committee that since 1 Chapt. Sect. 5 of the bye-laws provides that a fellow may resign his membership after giving satisfactory reasons to the Council, the resignations of Drs. Chadbourne & Crosby require the assent of the Council to make it valid; that the reasons which they have alleged are unsatisfactory; that their resignation is nugatory & that they are still amenable to the Society for their conduct as members since their resignation was sent in. On a view of the whole subject the committee are of opinion that the resignation of Drs. Chadbourne & Crosby cannot be accepted; that they are still to be considered as members of the Society; & the Committee recommends that the President be directed to communicate to them this opinion; & to make known to them that they cannot be honorably dismissed (agreeably to the bye-laws which they profess to have followed) without making a regular application to the council & substantiating the charges which they have made against the society.

Committee

Voted to accept the report of the Committee on the communication of Drs. Chadbourne & Crosby.

Voted to accept the report of a committee on the revision of the bye-laws, Viz.: Chap. 1, Sect. 7. In cases in which the Council of the General Society have original jurisdiction, a complaint shall be lodged with a councillor of the district to which the accused party belongs and if the said Councillor is convinced that the charge is not a frivolous or vexatious one he shall annex an order to the complaint, directed to the accused party requiring him to appear before the council; which the complainant shall serve on the accused by leaving an attested copy of the complaint & order with him at least 15 days before the meeting of the council & make a return of his doings thereon to the Secretary on or before the meeting of the council.

No deposition shall be received from either party unless, in case of the consent between the two parties before the Council, the adverse party has been served with a regular notice agreeably to the statute regulating the taking of depositions out of court. Sect. 7 1 Chap. The Council of the general Society shall have original jurisdiction in all cases of controversy between two parties belonging to different districts, & also cases of complaints preferred against a member which if prove correct render him liable to expulsion from the Society. And in all cases &c. So much of Chap 1 Sect. 7 & Chap 4 Sect. 7 as are inconsistent with these amendments are hereby repealed.

That after the most mature deliberation consequent upon a careful and critical examination of the subject and viewing it in all its several bearings your committee are decidedly of the opinion that there can be no essential alteration in the existing By-Laws upon that subject so as to meet the exigencies of all and every case that may occur to the fellows of this society in their intercourse with the sick; consequently they would respectfully recommend to this society to retain the By-Laws relating to the subject of consultations as they now exist.

Voted to choose a delegate to attend the medical convention at Northampton on the 20th of June 1827

Voted that Dr. Matthias Spalding be the delegate as above. Report of one of the delegates to Hanover.

The undersigned delegate from the N. H. Medical Society to attend the Medical examination at Dartmouth College, attended to the duty assigned them, and asks leave to submit the following report.

He arrived at Hanover Tuesday evening Dec. 6th and found the Medical School in a very flourishing condition. There were rising one hundred Medical Students that attended the lectures. The anatomical museum contains a valuable collection of wet and dried preparations, which are equal if not superior to that of any other medical institution in the New England States.

The examination commenced the same evening by Prof. Mussey on the part of the College (Prof. Oliver being unable to attend the examination by reason of indisposition) and was conducted with fidelity and fairness solely with a view to ascertain the knowledge and merit of the student.

Thirty five young gentlemen were examined for the degree of MD and the degree of M.D. was conferred on twelve. The appearance of those examined for degrees, was such as was highly creditable to themselves and evinced that there had been uncommon attention paid them by the Medical professors.

Too much cannot be said in commendation of the mode of teaching anatomy and of the fidelity and ability of the professor of that department.

Such was the appearance of the school and so highly do the Medical Professors stand in the estimation of the undersigned that he does unhesitatingly recommend to the Fellows of the N. H. Medical Society to encourage their students to attend lectures at this institution in preference to any other.

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY

1 That, in the opinion of this Society, the use of distilled spirit is never necessary & generally hurtful to persons in health; and that it affords no protection against contagious diseases, but on the contrary promotes a disposition to be affected by such diseases, especially when taken habitually or somewhat freely.

2 That we consider that distilled spirit is not essentially necessary in the treatment of a single disease, & that it might be safely removed from the shelves of the physician and apothecary

3 That it is the duty of each member of this society entirely to abstain from distilled spirit and to discourage its use among those with whom we may have influence.

4. That this subject be earnestly recommended to the serious consideration of all Medical Societies.

The following report was read by Dr. Adams: viz.

The undersigned elected Delegates by the N. H. M. Society to attend the Medical examinations at D. College in the autumn of 1828 submit the following report.

Having been duly notified of the day when the examinations would commence, they repaired to Hanover, where they were politely received by the faculty of Medicine. The evening of Tuesday, Dec. 10th and the Wednesday and Thursday following, to very late hours, were occupied in these examinations. The whole number of the Medical class was ninety one; of these twenty four were examined and approbated, of whom seven received their degrees. The examinations were conducted in a manner much to the approbation of your Delegates, and, generally, were well instanced, affording proofs, on the one hand, that instruction at this institution is assiduously imparted, and on the other, in most instances, that it is diligently received.

During the last year, the Anatomical Museum has been further enriched by new additions, the library is increasing with a steady progress, the Chemical Apparatus is very complete, almost every day adds something to the specimens in [blank] and no period, it is believed, has this institution been more deserving of the confidence of the public and the patronage of the State.

On closing this report, it is obvious to remark that the present is an age of uncommon intellectual effort. Artificers and Mechanics, Tradesmen and Farmers, in many of our large towns are forming themselves into associations for mental improvement. They procure libraries, they read literary and scientific journals, and attend lectures on Chemistry, Mechanics, Natural Philosophy and other of the Sciences. Nor is it in our large towns only that this spirit of improvement is manifesting itself. It is spreading wide over our country. Even our females, in many institutions which have lately sprung up in many places about us, are taught a far greater amount of science, than, at present, is required of those who offer themselves as candidates for the Medical honours conferred by our Colleges. With these facts before us, is it not time that higher qualifications were demanded for those who offer themselves as candidates for those distinctions, and that the Medical institutions throughout our country should be quickened in their efforts to bring about so desirable a result.

An interesting account of the state of medical science in some of the medical institutions in France and England was given by Proffessor Mussey and the practice of physic and surgery that came under his observation while visiting those institutions last year; also an exhibition of Civiale's ingenious instruments for grinding and removing the stone from the bladder.

The undersigned elected delegates by the New-Hampshire Medical Society to attend the Medical examinations at Dartmouth College in the autumn of 1830 submit the following report (the other delegate not present at the examinations).

The evening of Monday Nov. 22 the examinations commenced, and closed on Thursday evening the 25. The examinations continued to very late hours each day. The whole number of the Medical Class was ninety eight; of these thirty were examined and twenty six approved as eligible for a Medical Diploma. Fourteen received the degrees. The examinations were conducted in a thorough manner very much to the satisfaction of your delegate affording proofs that the instruction at this institution is assiduously and appropriately imparted. The examinations in most instances were very satisfactory affording evidence that instruction had been diligently received. Thirteen weeks were occupied by the lectures.

The facilities for imparting and receiving instruction at this institution have very much increased within ten years. In the Chemical department it is only necessary to say that the Laboratory is well furnished with apparatus in all the departments of the science.

The Professor on the theory and practice of physic has a very good assortment of specimens in the department of materia medica neatly put up in glass vessels for exhibition to the class.

A short catalogue of the preparations and specimens of the anatomical department will serve in a measure to show the indefatigable exertations of the professor in this department to render this institution beneficial to the profession: viz.

10 Skeletons natural and artificial of various sizes from an early Foetal State to that of an adult.

13 Skeletons with the muscular attachments painted in vivid colours, an original improvement to instruct myology by the Professor in this department.

8 Heads of various ages the bones separate.

More than 100 Specimens illustrative of bony structure & of the different stages of ossifications.

70 Blood Vessel preparations including numerous specimens illustrating minute vascularity and the Foetal circulation.

12 Preparations of the nerves. 6 Models and Preparations of the brain and spinal marrow dissected.

24 Preparations of the muscles. 12 Preparations of the Ligaments. 20 of the stomach and intestines. 5 of the mouth and nostrils. 8 of the Larynx and Pharynx. 14 of the Heart and Lungs. 20 of the eye including five models in wax.

23 Preparations of the ear including dissections and remarkably fine wax models.

44 Models connected with the department of Obstetrics.

190 Specimens of bones illustrating the effects of Scrofula, Syphilis, Cancer, Rickets, Rheumatisms, Hydrocephalus, Molites Osium, Spina Bifida, Curved Spine, Diseases of the joints, Fractures, Dislocations, and injuries of the head. A few wet preparations and Specimens showing the effects of disease upon the thoracic and abdominal viscera.

75 Plaster casts and Models of the heads and Brains of Persons distinguished for talent for crime and for deficiency of intellect; of other parts peculiarly marked by congenital deformity and by disease. 150 Specimens in comparative Anatomy. Besides the above enumerated specimens which amount to more than eight hundred in number; The Anatomical Museum contains a great number of small specimens of less value. Connected with the same department, the institution possesses a great variety of apparatus for the treatment of fracture and dislocations very complete sets of Surgical instruments including Civiale's & Heurteloupe's apparatus for destroying the stone in the bladder. A large number of richly coloured engravings illustrative of difficult surgical diseases and diseases of the skin a very extensive collection of Obstetrical engravings and highly finished and coloured engravings of the blood-vessels.

By the late visit to Europe of the Professor in this department the Anatomical Museum has been enriched particularly by a large and excellent collection of diseased bone and fine models in wax and casts. These additions with the numerous and excellent preparations before contained in the Museum, make it as good a collection it is believed for the purposes of instruction as any in this country.

The medical Library connected with the institution contains over seven hundred volumes text books and elementary works. There is a very good cabinet of minerals containing about 1400 Specimens among them are some interesting ones from Vesuvius and a few beautiful specimens of Fluor Spar from England also specimen of the largest know Berryll in the world from Acworth in this State.

In fact almost every day adds something to the specimens of the Medical department of this institution and at no period it is believed has this institution been more deserving of the confidence of the N. H. Med. Society's patronage of the public and Friends of the healing art.

Drs. A. Crosby, Mussey, and McGregory were chosen a committee to examine Patients.

Voted to accept the report of the delegates for the present year so far as reported By Drs. Long and Chadbourne Viz. "The undersigned being chosen by the N. H. Med. Society to attend the examinations for Medical Students at Dartmouth College would respectfully Report that agreeably to notice from Prof. Mussey we went to Hanover at the close of the last term of lectures. It was noticed that of the ninety four names of Medical Students on the last catalogue, about thirty remained till the termination of the course and of those, nine offered themselves as candidates for admission to practice. The examinations were in private and conducted principally by the Professors of the several branches to which they have more particularly devoted their attention, and in a manner as to fairness and fidelity, highly satisfactory to your delegation. The examinations were commenced on the 5th of Dec. at 1 O'clock P.M. and closed on the evening of the 6th and the degree of doctor of medicine conferred on all who were examined. We are happy to state that the candidates evinced more than ordinary readiness in answering interrogatories throughout the examinations, and will, no doubt, do honour to our profession. We are not fully prepared to draw comparisons between the advantages of this and Similar institutions in our country, but we are persuaded there is no one where the Study of Anatomy is pursued more thoroughly and rigoursly than at this.

Valuable additions appear to be made annually to the already numerous and elegant preparations in the anatomical museum. The assiduity and zeal manifested by the gentleman at the head of this branch, is deserving of high commendation from the Medical Profession throughout the State. We would not omit to notice the polite attentions from those with whom we have had the honour to associate while at Hanover; that if we may be allowed to infer from what we witnessed, there are not wanting opportunities for strangers to enjoy social intercourses as well as intellectual entertainments.

In conclusion we would call the attention of the Society to the efforts now making to procure for the Institution the extensive Cabinet of Minerals belonging to the Rev. Amos J. Cook late Preceptor of Fryeburg Academy. This Cabinet consists of between two and three thousand specimens of rare and expensive minerals foreign and domestick. The plan of transferring the whole to the Medical Institution at Hanover originated with the Hon Daniel Webster who saw it about a year since while on a visit in Maine. The subscription he drew up which at first met with very flattering success, has at length come to a stand and requires a new impulse from the friends of the Institution or the object will not be obtained. Now as the reputation of our Society and of the only Medical School in the State is so very intimately connected, that the prosperity and success of the one can hardly be promoted or retarded without effecting the other, the objects of both being the same, viz. the advancement of Medical Science and the improvement of the Profession, the idea is suggested whither as a society in our corporate capacity we should not be known in this thing and contribute our mite in the accomplishment of so desirable an object.

M. Long

Tho. Chadbourne

Drs. Chadbourne, D. Crosby and Long were appointed a Committee to enquire into the expediency of assisting in purchasing a cabinet of Minerals at Fryburg whose report was accepted, To wit, That the Treasurer of this Society be authorized to subscribe for half a box of the first quality of the above named minerals and to pay the sum to the agent appointed to negotiate the sale of them.—for the use of the Medical Institution at Dartmouth College.

The following report from the Delegates for medical examinations at Hanover was accepted

Viz. In discharge of the duties devolving on me as a delegate of the N. H. Medical Society to the Medical Institution at Dartmouth College, I spent three weeks of the lecture Term at that Institution, eighteen years had elapsed since I attended lectures there and my expectations formed from report were much more than realized in the increase of facilities afforded for obtaining a finished medical education. They had a very respectable medical class of one hundred students. I was present at the examination of fourteen candidates. They generally acquitted themselves in a manner honourable to themselves and the Institution, everything evinces an advancement worthy the Spirit of the age, few kindred institutions it is believed, all circumstances considered, afford better encouragement to the Student, who wishes actually to be what he would be thought to be. From the faithful manner in which the duties of the Several Professors are performed, I am persuaded it would be difficult for a Student to pass the usual course of instruction here without profiting by it or receive the honours of the Institution without deserving them.

The following report of the Delegates appointed to the medical examination at Hanover To wit

In reporting to this Society as a delegate at the examinations at Hanover I would observe that I consider the institution in high standing and meriting the confidence of this Society and of the profession throughout the State. I had the privilege of attending the examinations last autumn in company with my colleague Dr Dousman and was generally gratified with the appearance of the candidates. Eight only presented themselves for examination & all received a degree. They generally evinced the fact that the various branches of their studies had received a good degree of attention: and some of them bid fair for usefulness and eminence.

With regard to the character of the instruction given at this Institution the thorough qualifications and elevated standing of the Professors in the several departments it would be useless for me to Speak. Their merits are too well known to receive any addition from anything which I can say. I would observe, however, that their duties are extremely arduous in consequence of the number of Professorships being so limited. By what I can ascertain the amount of instruction is as great as at any medical school in New England and all performed by only three Professors, whereas in institutions generally there are from four to six professorships, but the instruction given frequently far less than at this. One great source of instruction & of facility in improvement especially in anatomy, surgery and physiology is the extensive and splendid anatomical museum connected with the Institution. The additions to it within a few years have been numerous and important and yearly additions are continually making. The indefatigable professor of anatomy appears to spare no labour nor expense to make this museum worthy of the institution, and worthy of any institution in our country; and in fact I am informed there are few in the United States which are superior, and in some respects none which equal it. Besides the numerous preparations & specimens in human, there are many in comparative anatomy which are highly interesting. I understand this branch of anatomy is to receive increasing attention. Among the specimens in morbid anatomy I was much interested in some which related to the fracture of the Femur. These specimens prove to a demonstration that bony reunion does take place in fracture within the Capsular ligament of the hip joint.

“To Doct. James A. Gregg of Hopkinton.

Whereas at a meeting of the Council of the N. H. Medical Society June 1836, a committee was appointed to investigate certain reports in circulation criminating the character of James A. Gregg, a fellow of said Society, said reports also implicating the moral and professional character of the members of the Society generally; and whereas, the appointment of said Committee having been sanctioned and confirmed by the Society; it was made the duty of said committee to attend to the subject during the recess of the Society and report the result of their investigation to the Council, at their next meeting—and whereas said committee having reported to the Council the facts in the case, the report with the opinion of the committee thereon was laid before the Society at their meeting in June 1837.

Whereupon it was voted that the whole subject be submitted and referred to the Council with an invitation to the Council of the Centre Dist. to meet with them and assist in the investigation, and that they proceed against Doct Gregg agreeably to the By-laws, and usages of the Society in such cases and that he be notified and cited to appear before them to answer to the following charges.

To Elijah Colby of Concord in the county of Merrimack and State of Newhampshire, Physician, one of the Counsellors of the N. H. Medical Society, residing within the limits of the Centre District thereof:

Doct. Enos Hoyt of Northfield complains of Doct. James A. Gregg of Hopkinton a fellow of said Society, that from facts in his possession he has reason to believe said Gregg guilty of a high misdemeanor, not only criminating himself, but implicating the members of the society generally, viz. That the said Gregg during the summer of 1834, made repeated attempts to seduce one of his female patients, and reported that the members of the society were guilty of similar practices in their intercourse with their patients, the said Hoyt therefore in behalf of said Society and in conformity with the Constitution and By-laws, request that said Gregg be duly notified of this complaint, that he may be dealt with according to the usages and by-laws of the Society, and that he have an opportunity to appear before the Council and show his innocence if he have power so to do.

number of students that had attended was eighty six, fifteen of whom presented themselves for an examination for degrees. The examinations were conducted chiefly by the Professors. The candidates generally appeared very well Several answered very promptly and did honour to themselves. The whole class of candidates were recommended for degrees, all who were examined gave evidence not only of having been correctly taught but of having studied anatomy and surgery in the dissecting room and from operations on the living subject. Your delegates would remark that they were highly gratified to find so great additions and improvements have been made in the anatomical department within the last 10 or 12 years. A large number of very valuable dried preparations have been received within that time among this number were some fine preparations of the nerves also of the heart and blood vessels and one of the Lymphatic vessels. Much praise is due to the professor who stands at the head of this department for his indefatigable exertions to render complete the anatomical museum a continuance of the same exertions for a few years will render the school second to none in New England. The Delegates to Hanover made the following Report.

“The Delegates chosen by the N. H. Med. Society at their last Annual Meeting to attend the examination of Medical Students for a degree of M. D. at the Med. Institution at Hanover, submit the following report—Having been notified of the time of examination by Prof. Mussey we attended agreeably to notice. Fifteen Students presented themselves for examination. Most of them sustained a good examination, and gave promise of future usefulness.

One of them especially a young man of Colour, from Liberia, South Africa deserves high commendation, both for native talent, and literary and medical acquirements. The promptness with which every question was answered, his ease and grace of manners impressed the belief that he will take an elevated stand in the Profession.

In regard to the state of the Medical Institution, it is difficult to speak—Seeing so little, as delegates must, being present but a few days, and their attention being mostly occupied in the examination of the students.

The number examined was small, but this much we can say, that so far as the appearance and qualifications of the students, bespeak the merits of the Institution, it was to its praise.

Your Delegates were cordially received, and all the opportunities given to examine, to their entire satisfaction, all the students presented for a degree. The Professors seemed desirous that a thorough investigation of the qualifications of each student should be gone into.

It is probably well known to all present that the close of the Lectures last fall, closed the connection of Professors

Mussey and Oliver with our medical Institution—and it is due, to say, that they sustained to the last that dignity and high sense of duty that have ever characterized them.

The indefatigable efforts which they have made to sustain the interest and prosperity of the Medical Institution & medical Science generally, should call forth our gratitude and high commendation, and should hereafter be the subject of extended remark. The Medical Institution, so far as the Professors are concerned has undergone almost an entire revolution. But from the well known talents and perseverance of the present Professors, and the speedy filling up of the Anatomical Museum, we are encouraged to hope much: and trust that our most sanguine expectations will not be disappointed. From what we have seen and learned, we are of the belief that the Museum, so far as the preparations for demonstration are concerned, will equal, if not surpass what it ever has been.

This Institution deserves the fostering care of all the members of this Society; and its future prosperity will, in many important respects depend upon the interest manifested.

Shakers' by Dr. Corbett, Dr. Fletcher's by the inventor & Phelps' by the inventor.—The Committee take pleasure in saying that the mechanical execution of all was very good, and several were of beautiful workmanship, and speaks well for the taste and good judgment of the inventors.

So much attention has been given to the subject of Hernia, and so many improvements have been made in trusses, since the report of a former committee of this Society; and believing from the evidence submitted to your committee that they all possess a good degree of efficiency, and are well adapted to accomplish a retention, and in many instances a radical cure in the great variety of cases of Hernia,

“ To the Council of the New Hampshire Medical Society.

We the undersigned petitioners, respectfully represent that we live so far from Amherst, that it is very difficult, and often wholly impracticable for us to attend the meetings of the Southern District Society. That it would be for the interest and convenience of many Physicians in this and adjacent towns were a new Dist. Society formed; the object of which should be the promotion of the Science of Medicine, the cultivation of a friendly intercourse between the members of the Profession, a rigid opposition to every species of quackery, and the elevation of the professional character generally.

That Manchester is a central situation, is a place of much business, has a large and increasing population, is the residence of several physicians, and consequently would be a proper place to hold its meetings.—We therefore pray that we may be set off into a new Society to be called the Manchester Medical Association, to hold our meetings at Manchester, and to be governed by a similar Constitution and By-laws to those of other Societies ”

The Delegates to Hanover made the following Report.

"As Delegates from this Society to attend the examinations at Hanover, we would say, that we visited the Medical Institution, at the close of the last lecture term; and attended the examinations of the graduating class; which we are happy to say evinced the fact, that the various branches of their studies, had received a good degree of attention; and some of the young gentlemen examined bid fair for usefulness in the world, and eminence in their profession.

Twelve students presented themselves for examination which they sustained with much credit to themselves and honour to their Instructors.

Your Delegates would just say, that the Medical Class so far as we could learn were perfectly satisfied with the instructions they received from the several Professors; and we confidently believe that the present board of Professors will fully sustain the high reputation which the school had previously attained.

The Museum, or Antomical Cabinet has already been so far replenished as to contain every preparation necessary for instruction in anatomy and Surgery; and permit us further to say, that we believe the N. H. Medical Institution under its present organization abundantly worthy the confidence and patronage of the Medical public.

Medical Society, to attend the examination of the candidates for the degree of M.D. at the close of the last lecture term at Hanover, begs leave to report, that the duty assigned has been performed, and with a good degree of satisfaction, with the flourishing condition in which the Institution was found. The class consisted of seventy two students, twelve of whom passed a creditable examination. The facilities for acquiring a thorough knowledge of the different branches of the profession, are great. The Clinical and Surgical apparatus is complete, and the Museum has been enriched within the past year by the addition of more than one hundred rare specimens in Pathological Anatomy. Money unexpended, to be appropriated in making still further additions, remains in the hands of the faculty. The Institution, under its present organization, deserves the confidence and patronage of the medical Profession and the Public, and the large number of Students, which attended the lectures during the last course; larger, in fact, than at any similar Institution in New England, evinces the fact that its advantages are duly appreciated."

Dr. Fitch, Delegate to Hanover, made the following report, which was accepted.

The undersigned, one of the delegates appointed at the last Annual Meeting of the Society, "To attend the examination of candidates for Medical Degrees at Dartmouth College," offers the following brief statement:

As it is from the N. H. Medical School principally that this State is supplied with physicians the profession here generally, and this Society especially—whose duty it is to watch over & advance the healing art among us—have a deep interest in that Institution. Fully participating in this interest, your delegate, while attending to the objects more immediately committed to his charge, endeavored to make himself acquainted with the present condition of the School, and the advantages it possesses for imparting a thorough medical education to those who may resort to it for instruction.

During the last few years the Lecture Halls of the Institution, the Laboratory & the Museum, have been much improved in arrangement & convenience. The Museum is ample, stately & enriched by many elaborate & expensive preparations; it contains abundant materials for illustrating both the healthy & diseased conditions of the human system, besides a great variety of rare & curious specimens pertaining to the different branches of Natural History.

The departments of Chemistry & Materia Medica are well supplied with apparatus & means for illustrating the several subjects therewith connected; and the study of Medical Botany particularly, has been made much easier & more attractive by an extensive & complete assortment of specimens and drawings. In a word, so far as judicious arrangements & regulations, and materials for the use of the School are concerned, it is evident that its present managers have been sparing neither in effort nor expenditure requisite to elevate it to a standing fully equal to kindred Institutions.

With the character and abilities of the present distinguished teachers at the Hanover School, this Society is already acquainted. The examination of those who offer themselves for the honors of the Institutions affords an excellent opportunity for judging both of the quality of the instruction, and the acquirements of the graduates. The mere length of time devoted to Medical Studies, or the number of Lectures attended, can never satisfactorily establish the sufficiency of attainments; and your delegate is of opinion that if this final security, the graduating examination, were rigidly made in all the Schools, the profession would be relieved from much not altogether unmerited obliquity & the people from no small share of imposition and suffering.

The class of the last Lecture term at Hanover comprised about the usual number of students, and was highly respected for the talents & the literary & professional acquirements of its members—as well as in their orderly & gentlemanly deportment. At the examination twelve offered themselves as candidates for medical Degrees all of whom passed successfully. Four, it was understood were examined & approbated during the progress of the Lecture term, making the number of Medical Graduates at Dartmouth during the last year, sixteen.

The examination, so far as observed, was conducted with perfect fairness, and, with an exception or two, furnished the most gratifying proof of the ample qualifications of those who claimed 'received the honors of the Institution. The graduating Theses of the several candidates, which in themselves afford an admirable test scholarship, your delegate of course had not time to read; but a glance at the subjects selected, the accurate arrangement & correct literary execution, indicate a new era of general as well as medical scholarship at the Hanover School. And here it may not be improper to add, for the information of those whom it may concern, that the Faculty have decided as a standing rule—and very properly—that a slovenly, misspelled and ill-constructed Thesis shall hereafter be conclusive evidence of unfitness in any candidate for the Degree of Medicine.

In conclusion your delegate has only to add as the result of his recent observations at Hanover, That the New Hampshire Medical Institution affords ample and desirable opportunities to all students who wish at a moderate expense to acquire a thorough knowledge of the Medical Sciences; for such as sigh after luxurious indolence and desire only, at the end of a prescribed period, to obtain the questionable distinction conferred by a degree without possessing the knowledge it implies, it is not the place. But to the class first named it is confidently believed that few schools in our country furnish more real advantages for a part or the whole of their course of study—and it needs only the counsel, the encouragement & the influence of this Society & the profession throughout the State, to ensure to our own Medical Institution a wide field for success and usefulness.

Which is respectfully submitted

Amherst, June 2^d 1843.

F. P. Fitch

Report of the Delegates to Dartmouth Medical Institution.

The undersigned, delegates appointed by the New Hampshire Medical Society at their last annual meeting to attend the examination of the candidates for the degree of M.D. at the Medical Institution of Dartmouth College, beg leave respectfully to report.

That having been notified by the Dean of the Medical Faculty of the time and place of the examination, they repaired to Hanover on the twenty first of October last, and attended said examination. Your delegates deem it proper to state in this stage of their report, that at the time of their appointment they were almost entirely unacquainted with the Faculty and existing conditions of the Institution they were called to visit; and that this was their first visit to the Institution in the character of delegates, and for more than twenty years in any capacity.

For these and other reasons they felt desirous of discharging the delicate and important duties of their trust which had been confided to them with thoroughness and impartiality.

The examination commenced on the twenty second day of October last in the Medical Building attached to Dartmouth College, and was conducted by the Medical Faculty of the Institution, all of whom were present except Professor Roby, and by the undersigned, occupying the greater part of two days. Thirteen young gentlemen presented themselves as candidates for the honours of the Institution. The whole number of examiners including Faculty and Delegates was six. It was arranged that each examiner should have ten minutes for the examination of each candidate, and should take up each a distinct branch of Medical Science. The delegates took the liberty of examining in any department of Medical Science they saw fit. The arrangement, it will be observed gave one hour for the examination of each candidate. Each candidate was also examined separately from each other. In this way your delegates believe the examination might claim the merit of being both thorough and impartial. The examination was satisfactory to your delegates. The candidates having generally sustained themselves well. It is not too much to say that the examination gave evidence that they were qualified to commence the arduous duties of the profession.

After the examination your delegates inspected the various departments of the Medical Professors.

In the Anatomical Museum were found many fine specimens of the human subject with injected veins and arteries, with demonstration of nerves and muscles in a high state of preservation; rare specimens of distorted and diseased bones, and of Morbid Anatomy in a great variety, and something of a collection of Comparative Anatomy.

The Professors are to be commended for their great and successful exertion in their department. A department which lies at the foundation of the Medical Profession; and an accurate knowledge of which is absolutely indispensable to high professional success.

The Cabinet of Materia Medica and Medical Botany is elegant and well arranged; and is continually increasing in number and variety. The specimens are in a good state of preservation, and connected with it are many valuable paintings, and drawings illustrating this branch of the profession, which in our opinion are well and beautifully represented. This is a branch of the Medical Science which has been much neglected, but is now rapidly taking its place with the other departments of the profession.

The department of Chemistry and Pharmacy appeared to be demonstrated with science and skill; the Laboratory to be well supplied with all that is necessary to a thorough prosecution of this delightful branch of the medical department.

The Professors are all in the prime of life, and to all appearances are zealously exerting themselves to elevate the standard of Medical Science, and to put the Institution on a firm and elevated basis. It is understood that, should any of the professors retire from the Institution, he would not be at liberty to remove any of the preparations which may have been deposited in the several Museums, a regulation well calculated to give permanency to them, the Institution having recently felt the effect of a contrary policy. A few years ago on the removal of one of the Professors a large number of the specimens in the Museum were removed with him.

The Professor of Surgery has filled the chair for the last five years, and we have the pleasure to be able to state, that he has not during that time lost a single patient in consequence of an operation. During the last lecture term the Professor performed thirty seven operations, many of great magnitude. This we learn is about the average number performed in a term. It is our opinion that the students in this Institution witness as much medical practice as any other in New England.

Your delegates need not express to an association like our own the necessity of an elevated standard of Medical Science. We all know the character of our profession, its value to the human family, and its comparative rank with the other learned professions. It is in this view that our Medical Institutions become of great importance. They are the great foundation of Medical knowledge and improvement. They give tone and character to the Medical Profession.

The Dartmouth Medical Institution has high claim upon our patronage. It is to many of us our Alma Mater. It is an institution of our own state. It is one of the oldest in the Union. It has grown up with the state, and is identified with all our feelings of State pride. It has been the starting point of many of our youth, whose subsequent career has shed honour upon our State, and our profession. It is well officered, well located, and we believe affords all necessary facilities for the attainment of a thorough Medical education

The delegates to the American Medical Association presented the following Report—which was accepted.

The undersigned, appointed at the last meeting of this Society, delegates to the American Medical Association holden in New York on Tuesday the 3^d day of May 1853, have attended to their duties and beg leave to report. The session of the Association commenced on the morning of May 3^d and continued three days. The business was carried forward rapidly and successfully and the whole proceedings were characterized by courtesy and general good feeling. This was in a large measure to be attributed to the exertions of Dr. Jonathan Knight of Conn. who was elected President of the Association. This was a deviation from the ordinary rule of selecting the president of the Association from the place in which the meeting is held. It was due, in part, to the acknowledged merits of Dr. Knight, and in part to the fact that two candidates, Drs. Francis and Mott, were presented by the faculty of New York City, and the nominating committee did not care to take the responsibility of deciding between them. Reports were received from some of the various standing committees. But most of them were continued another year. Among them we may mention that of Dr. C. D. Meigs of Philadelphia upon diseases of the cervix uteri. It was not read, even by synopsis, in accordance with the wishes of the author who did not consider it to be adapted to a mixed audience. It was pronounced by Dr. D. Francis Candie, a very superior production, and in for an increase of the annual fee to five dollars he stated that the illustrations of this report would cost $1000. The report of Dr. G. Emerson of Pennsylvania on the influence of upward radiation as a cause of disease was interesting and valuable, presenting in this respect a marked contrast to the report on Typhoid Fever by Dr. H. F. Campbell of Georgia. As Dr. Campbell commenced his synopsis by saying that he had but little experience in the treatment of this disease and but little acquaintance with its phenomena, we may be allowed to add that he showed himself equally unacquainted with its pathology by ascribing all its appearances to an influence upon the ganglionic system of nerves, and running into the wildest vagaries of the nervous pathology. Able reports were presented on Medical Literature and Medical Education, the former by Dr. N. S. Davis of Illinois, the latter by Dr. Pitcher of Michigan. But it is entirely impossible for us to give here a synopsis of either. For the prizes offered for essays, there were quite a number of competitors, but they were awarded, the first to Dr. Waldo J. Burnett of Boston, the subject of whose essay was

"The Cell, its physiology, pathology and philosophy." The second to Dr. W. L. Adler whose subject was "The surgical treatment of certain fibrous tumors of the uterus, heretofore considered beyond the reach of art." Others of the papers presented were declared to be worthy of honorable mention.

There were a large number of resolutions presented and agreed to. One or two of them require some notice from this Society. The first presented by Dr. Palmer of Chicago as follows—"Resolved, That this association earnestly recommend to the local societies in different portions of our country to appoint committees whose duty it shall be to record the prevalence of epidemics or other diseases, and the general state of health in their respective localities, and to transmit said reports to the committees of the Society on Epidemics, through the State Societies where they exist." This resolve was passed in consequence of the deficiency of information which ought to and must be furnished by individuals of the profession, or else is not to be obtained in any way. Other Societies devote a good degree of attention to collecting this information, and your delegates respectfully submit, whether or not it is not the duty of this venerable Society to take care that it is not outstripped by its younger rivals in benefiting the profession and the country. Another subject of a good deal of interest was introduced by the offering of the following resolution by Dr. Peaslee of this State. "Resolved, That it is the duty of the Faculties to refuse to admit to examination for the degree of Doctor in Medicine all persons who intend to engage in any other than the regular practice, and to give notice of this in their annual course of lectures." An amendment was proposed to this and the whole matter was laid upon the table, till the next day when it was called up in another form and ended in the expression of the opinion by the Association that Medical Colleges and other boards authorized to graduate candidates should require them to sign the Code of Ethics of the Association, and make the administration of a pledge that they will abide by it, a portion of the public exercises of Commencement.

This subject created more feeling and called out more earnest discussion than any other topic, which came before the meeting. Your delegates could not but be struck with the fact that most of the opposition to the resolution came from city schools and from some of those which graduate the largest number of students, while the smaller and the country schools very generally supported them.

Your delegates were not forgetful of the resolution passed last year by this Society, instructing them to guard the interests of our State School, but the objectionable action which was anticipated was not attempted, and there was, of course, no occasion for opposition. New Hampshire was represented in the Association by thirteen delegates from the various Societies and institutions; a good number but not so large as we had hoped to see, and as was expected from the ease of access to New York and the fact that next year it is to be held at so great a distance, in St. Louis. The hospitality of the Association by the profession of New York was more than liberal, and your delegates desire here to acknowledge it. It was extended to them both publicly and privately, and added very much to the pleasure of the occasion.

Of the delegates appointed by this Society four were present, the undersigned and Dr. Josiah Bartlett of Stratham. Dr. Bartlett hastened to return to his duties and perished by the way. From the fact that he was so long a member, and that a prominent one of this Society it seems fitting that we should here adopt appropriate resolutions expressive of our feelings, and your delegates take the liberty to move that a committee of five be appointed by the chair to draft and present appropriate resolutions.

All which is respectfully submitted,

E. K. Webster	} Delegates.
A. Smalley,
E. H. Parker.
